What is FCCLA?

FCCLA or Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America, is the only student-based service organization with the family as its focus. Members of FCCLA use information learned in Family & Consumer Sciences (FACS) classes to make a difference in their families, careers, and communities by addressing important personal, work, and societal issues.

FCCLA is one of six CTSOs (Career/Technical Student Organizations) offered to students who enroll in a Career & Technical education course at Cookeville High School.

Who can join?

Any young man or woman who is currently enrolled or has previously been enrolled in a FACS class is eligible for membership in FCCLA

Students are exposed to FCCLA through various projects and lessons throughout the year in their FACS class(es). Membership in FCCLA is not required but is encouraged to help students make connections between course content and FCCLA chapter goals. Chapter projects focus on a variety of youth concerns, including family relationships, parenting, substance abuse, health and wellness, teen violence, and community issues.

Why join FCCLA?

Involvement in FCCLA offers members the opportunity to expand their leadership potential and develop skills for life— planning, goal setting, problem solving, decision making, and interpersonal communication— necessary in the home and workplace. PLUS FCCLA members meet new students from around the state and nation when the chapter travels to the State Leadership Meeting in Nashville and states across the U.S. for the National Leadership Conference.
